Dear Customers & Partners,

the significant challenges around raw material supply, availability and price, and continuous increasing of energy cost have now been exacerbated by further challenges related to the current Russia-Ukraine conflict.

For our side, we continue to introduce all possible actions to mitigate the impact on our costs trying to absorb the gap and the instability generated between the growth in costs and our pricing.

Despite all our efforts, however, starting from Friday, April 15th 2022, we are forced to apply a 5% energy surcharge on the whole ALIAXIS ITALY portfolio.

This increase will be applied on the total value of each individual invoice and will be applied without distinction to all invoices, regardless of the date of receipt and entry of the order.

We assure you that we are doing everything possible to reduce uncertainty and minimize impact and we will keep you informed promptly of any changes in this context.

As usual our sales team and customer service are at your side to support you and to answer any question you may have.

Best regards,

Alessandro Bernardi
